AGRICULTURE LABOR PROGRAM

BUSINESSES

Our Agriculture Labor Specialists can help you:

- Recruit local workers in time for your harvest
- Screen workers for the right skills and experience
- Find the answers to questions about recruiting and registering workers
- Understand your responsibilities (labor laws and compliance issues)
- Interpret labor market data and employment trends

Under federal labor laws, states must assure that Migrant and Seasonal Farm Workers are served equally as are other job seekers. In New York State, our Agriculture Labor Program assists both agricultural employers and workers.

Our Agriculture Labor Specialists are located throughout the state. They can assist you, one on one, with many Department of Labor services designed for agribusiness.

JOB SEEKERS

Our Agriculture Labor Specialists can help you:

- Find a job that fits your skills and experience
- Branch out into related fields
- Explore openings in other locations
- Learn about training options
- Resolve a work-related complaint

Our New York State Career Center system serves everyone. Each location has people who can help you with your job search, as well as computers that can be used by people of most abilities. We also have interpreters. If you need help, ask us.
